MANAGING YOUR OWN CAREER

WEDNESDAY 17 MAY 2023 17:00-18:30CEST

Kathryn Bishop, Associate Fellow at Said Business School, University of Oxford

There is no such thing as a standard path to career success. You have your own definition of what success means to you, and you have to find your own route.

In this webinar, Kathryn Bishop will talk about 9 different ideas to help you - and give you the chance to explore one of them yourself in a simple exercise. You will leave the webinar with something to take away and use as you manage your own career.

Kathryn Bishop is an Associate Fellow at the Said Business School, University of Oxford, and combines her teaching with practical experience of leadership roles in the private, public and voluntary sectors. She has spent the last decade working to help individuals – both men and women – build successful working lives, and has poured everything she has learnt into her book, Make Your Own Map. This book focuses on women's working lives, but contains useful insights for everyone. She was awarded a CBE for services to diversity and public administration in the 2021 Queen's Birthday Honours List.

This webinar is part of the AEPC heart beats for education series, however is suitable for fellows in any specialty
